OUR STORY...

Our love for BBQ began in the home of the Liberty Bell. While most of our neighbors were deciding whether to get their Philly Cheesesteak with onions or Cheez Wiz, we were learning to slow cook meats on our $28 water smoker. After perfecting our own unique rubs and glazes, we started selling barbecue at car shows, bike nights and community festivals. Based on our success, we realized it was time to get serious and traded in our little Wal-Mart special for a smoker as big as our aspirations!

Our customers loved our barbecue, we loved our barbecue, but we still didn't know how ours compared to other serious cooks' barbecue. So we started entering BBQ competitions.

In our first five competitions, our ribs won five first place trophies. Our catering took off and we had customers who would come from miles around to get our BBQ. After a few years (and a few too many cold winters - think snow-b-cue) we realized we needed to be in the heart of BBQ country, and decided to come south to Georgia.

It delights us that we hear the same thing from our Southern customers as those to the North, "Those are the best ribs I've ever had."

Our customers from Pennsylvania missed our BBQ so much that we still ship ribs, pork and sauce to Philadelphia a few times a year.

We may have moved 800 miles South, but our BBQ is still legendary 800 miles to the North.

BBQ falls into two categories...meats you can put on a roll (sandwich meats) and those you can't without breaking a tooth (bone in meats like ribs and whole chickens).

Bone In Southern Style Spare Ribs

The whole untrimmed rib in all its glory.

Dry rubbed, smoked and glazed to perfection

St. Louis Style Spare Ribs

They're easier to eat like back ribs but with all the flavor of spare ribs.

Back Ribs

Baby Backs are Ribs that are less than 1 3/4 pounds. Since our Back Ribs are bigger and meatier, they really aren't babies...

Rib Tips

Trimmed ends of the Ribs. These make a great add-on as an appetizer.

Chicken on the Bone

We use large, 4 pound birds for our smoked chicken which are cut into ten pieces for buffet service. Strangely enough, we call this Chick-in-10.

Sandwich Meats

Our sandwich meats come with our regular or hot sauce on the side. Our pulled chicken is mixed with a little of our regular sauce to keep it moist.

- Pulled Pork
- Pulled Chicken
- Chopped Beef
- House Made Sausage
